

Contract (release to property)

The Contract is concluded between the owner of the property right and the author of the works in which the image of this property is used. The owner is understood to mean both physical and legal persons, as well as representatives of the owner and his/her principals, hereinafter all of them are specified as the Owner. The Author is understood as the Author himself/herself and his/her entrants, companies, successors, licensees, as well as third parties appointed by the Author or acting in accordance with contractual relations with him/her and with his/her representatives, hereinafter all of them are specified as the Author. Products are media files, in which there is an image of objects of property, wholly or partly, and derivatives thereof, including those altered, distorted, accompanied by texts, audio-video accompaniment, decorative elements and other effects. Finally, the image of the property, as well as its recognizable part or parts, the right to own which, or the right to represent the owners of which belongs to the party signing the contract, referred to as the Owner, hereinafter referred to as the Image.

The undersigned Owner, in accordance with the definitions specified in the preamble to the contract, voluntarily transfers to the Author the exclusive, untimely and final right to use the Image in his/her Products.

In addition, the Owner exempts the Author from any claims on his/her part and from any responsibility regarding the procedure for obtaining the Image and regarding the use of the Image in his/her Products, both in the present and in the future.

The owner confirms that he/she has the right to sign the present Contract on his/her behalf, without being bound or limited by any obligations to any parties. In addition, the Owner also confirms the absence of any - including unpaid - financial obligations to him/her from the Author within the framework of the present Contract, both in the present and in the future.

The Owner confirms that he/she has the right to sign the present Contract on his/her behalf, without being bound or limited by any obligations to any parties. In addition, the Owner also confirms the absence of any - including unpaid - financial obligations to him/her from the Author within the framework of the present Contract, both in the present and in the future.

By signing the present Contract, the signatories confirm that they have carefully read and agree with all provisions of the Contract, which comes into effect from the moment of its signing.

Data of the Parties	Owner	Author
Family name, First name
ID (identity card)
Date of birth
Address of permanent residence
Date of signing the Contract
Signatures

Property Information (required field): .....
.....
.....
.....
.....